A GROWING NEWSPAPER IN A GROWING COMMUNITY

Volume 60, Number 51 | CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c per copy | Thursday, December 10, 1953

CAMBRIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT TO VOTE ON $200,000 BOND ELECTION TUESDAY FOR NEW SCHOOLS, SITES, FACILITIES

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., Tuesday, December 15, to permit voters of 15 county election precincts in the vicinity, to approve or reject a special $200,000 bond election to build at least two new Elementary schools in the Cambrian district.

A successful bond election next Tuesday will make funds available for immediate construction of a new Cambrian Elementary school of eight classrooms, multi-use room, kindergarten, and administrative offices at a previously purchased site on the corner of Foxworthy and Ross avenues.

A second school of six classrooms, multi-use room, kindergarten, and administrative offices is planned for a site in the vicinity of New Jersey and Harris avenues.

Plans for a third school on a site to be purchased are dependent on a successful election, Delos M. Bagby, district superintendent said. School trustees, and the California State Department of School house planning agree, he said, that a third site be purchased to be assured of a site within its population centers. A third school will be planned for 250 pupils with a maximum enrollment of 500. This school would consist of six standard classrooms, kindergarten, multipurpose room and office area, with playgrounds, bus turn-around, fencing and paving area.

Bond money, if approved, will also be used, according to the district superintendent, for the purchase of school sites, alterations or improvement to existing school buildings, equipment for new schools, permanent improvement of school grounds, and provisions for adequate storm sewers and drains.

An additional purpose of the bonds is to keep the district at its maximum indebtedness to qualify for further state aid. Cambrian Elementary School District has been eligible for state funds, as one of the so-called "impoverished districts" where school populations are high and assessed valuations low. The district must keep itself bonded to the maximum to continue its eligibility.

Girl scouts of the Cambrian Elementary School District will baby-sit for mothers wishing to vote in next Tuesday's school bond election. A telephone call to the school (FR 8-3867) will bring a car to the home with a baby sitter, take the voter to the polling booth and return her home, then return the girl scout to the school.

$121,000 of the bonds would be sold to bring the district to its bonded limit during 1953-54. The remainder would be available to be sold as the assessed valuation increases without delaying for subsequent bond elections and postponing needed expansion.

During 1953-54, the State can be asked for approximately $600,000 if the bond election passes, Bagby stated.

Cambrian Elementary School District is bounded roughly on the north by Campbell avenue, on the west by the Los Gatos Creek, on the south towards Los Gatos at Bennet Way and on the east at Kirk Road.

Voters eligible to vote in Tuesdays election include those residing in County election precincts, Campbell 1, Robertsville 2, 3; Union 1, 5, 7, 9. 10, 11, 12, 17, 19; and Walnut 2, 3, 4, lying within the boundaries of the Cambrian School District.

The district's present school at Casey road and the San Jose-Los Gatos road has reached its maximum development. Bagby said the present school has an enrollment of 965. Its intended capacity is 704. Officials estimate a projected enrollment of 1270 within the next year.

School officials, school children, and service clubs have been active in the area distributing information concerning the coming election. By this time voters of the area are familiar with DeForest Andrews' cartoon takeoff of Jack Webb's "Dragnet", in which Joe Tuesday is assigned to get voters of the Cambrian district out to vote next Tuesday.

CIRCULATION CLUB ENDING ON FRIDAY; JUDGES NAMED

Friday, at 8 P. M. December 11, is the dead line on The Camp-Press' Circulation Club, through which one of the club members whose names are listed below will be the proud owner of the all expense tour of the Hawaiian Island.

All subscriptions secured since Monday, December 7, will be placed in the locked ballot box in the office of The Press, with the reserve votes and will not be taken out until after the close of the contest, when the judges will take charge of the box and begin the final count.

Messrs. Ralph Hyde, of The Campbell Water Co., Lowell Benson of The Campbell Cleaners, and Del Lucot, certified public accountant, all well known throughout the district, will act as judges of The Circulation Club.

They are all residents of Campbell and all club members may rest assured their interests will be safe in their hands.

Club members must not be late as they must have their subscriptions in The Press office no later thaan eight o'clock tomorrow night.

The only extra votes the last four days will be on amounts of subscription money such as have been awarded since the beginning of the campaign.

$20 in subscriptions will give club members 50,000 extra votes, $30 will bring 100,000 extra, $40 will give them 200,000 extra votes, $50 will be good for 300,000 extra, $60 for 400,000 extra, $75 for 500,000 extra and every five dollars above $75.00 in subscriptions will give them 50,000 extra votes.

Extended subscriptions will still count for the difference in one year and two or three or four years. Such as a new year is good for 3,000 votes, two years 10,000 votes, so the second year will bring 7,000 more votes and cost a subscriber who has subscribed for a club member but $2.00 additional. If a new subscriber has taken 2 years for $5.00 he may take two more years and give a worker the difference between 10,000 for 2 new years and four years, or 30,000 votes. One half as many votes on renewals.

All free photographs that subscribers who take The Press from a candidate are entitled to and which have not as yet been made, must wait until January 15, to have them taken at Then Bona Ventura Studio, 219 E. Campbell Avenue and all who expect to get one of the free portraits must have them taken not later than February 28, 1954.

All Club Members must come to the office of The Press before 5 P. M. tomorrow and verify their votes published in the Press today for the benefit of the judges.

The votes as published below consist of subscription and coupon votes. The majority of candidates have reserve votes which have not been included in the tabulations but which will be counted in the final count Friday night.

The candidates have been allowed to reserve part of their votes in order that no one may know the exact standing of another until after the Circulation Club is ended, when all votes will be published.

Miss Hancie Naylor is still leading, Mrs. Romaine Baker is second, Mrs. Louis Brandon third, Mrs. Wanda Ray is fourth, Miss Pat Taylor is fifth, and Mrs. Richard Bebeau is sixth.

All these candidates are in line for the five cash awards after the trip to Honolulu is awarded.

There are still two days in which to work for subscriptions and results of the work done in that time might change the line-up. All who do not receive an award will be paid 10% of the subscription money turned in by them.

There are also several lower club members who could by a little effort get up into the prize list.

The standing to 5:30 P. M. Monday, is given below.

Plan Members Hyde, Priestly Terms Expire

Terms of Campbell planning commissioners Homer Hyde, and Kenneth Priestly are due to expire this month, the city council Monday night was informed by letter from John M. Chargin, planning commission chairman.

City council deferred action until next meeting to await city attorney, Joseph A. Bonacina's finding of laws governing the matter.

After appointment of the city's first planning commission, members drew lots to find out who would serve what terms, so that there would be a nucleus of old members familiar with plans and policies who could indoctrinate newer appointees.

Hyde and Priestly, by lot, drew terms of one year. Chairman John Mr. Chargin and Guy Farley drew terms of two years, Ted Solari and J. A. Thomlinson were assigned terms of three years each, and Hollis M. Logue, the seventh member of the present planning commission agreed to serve a term of four years.

FIRE DISTRICT ASSETS SHARE ASKED BY CITY

City attorney Joseph A. Bonacina and Howard Campen, Santa Clara County Counsel, at a meeting last Thursday, agreed on a formula for apportioning assets of the Central Fire District following incoproation of the City of Campbell on March 28, 1952.

Assets to be distributed include (1) property of the district (2) cash on hand and (3) funds collected from taxes.

According to the city attorney, property assets amounted to $274,815. Cash on hand of the Central Fire District on March 28, 1952 amounted to $63,371.35. Taxes collected from March 28, 1952 to June 30, 1952, included $83,257.98. Taxes collected from July 1, 1952 to June 30, 1953, came to $272,196.51.

Campbell is entitled to an agreed percentage of 1.421 per cent of the property of the district, funds on hand and taxes collected.

Campbell's percentage of cash on hand comes to $900.51; from taxes collected from March 28, 1952 to June 30, 1952, Campbell also rates $1,183.10 as its share; from taxes collected from July 1, 1952, to June 30, 1953, the City of Campbell should receive $3,867.91, Bonacina explained at the City Council meeting Monday evening.

Campbell's total share of Central Fire Distrct assets should amount to $5,951.52.

This figure may or may not stand, according to the city attorney. Final apportionment will be agreed upon when the Central Fire District commissioners meet today in San Jose.

Not yet finally worked out is a settlement of the Fire District's claim that the City of Campbell owes the district money for the standby fire service. The Central Fire District claims it had provided this service following incorporation and before a Campbell Fire Department was activated. The City of Campbell, on the other hand, contends it owes the fire district nothing, since it neither asked for nor received the asserted service.

CUSD ACCEPTS BUILDERS' AID ON COST CUTS

Campbell Elementary School district advisory Council last week tentatively accepted Builders Exchange of Santa Clara County's offer to provide technical advice on school housing to cut costs.

The school district has called on citizen members of the Council to recommend future acion.. The district's present 30-cent special tax rate which will expire June of 1955 will receive close attention. Whether to continue, expand or eliminate the special tax rate will be the subject of an intensive finance committee investigation.

LOWER INSURANCE RATES LIKELY IF UNDERWRITERS' SCHEDULE IS MET

Key reports were given at the Campbell City Council meeting Monday night by City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina, concerning the apportionment to the city of Central Fire District assets, and by Fire Chief Jack B. Scott, concerning State Board of Fire Underwriters recommendations for lowering fire insurance rates in Campbell.

Bonacina indicated that the share of assets from the Central Fire District since incorporation, March 28, 1952, should be finally agreed upon at the next meeting of Central Fire district commissioners being held today, at the headquarters station on Tully Road in San Jose.

Substance of attorney's report is in other columns of today's Press.

Fire Chief Scott was directed by the council to ascertain from the State Board of Fire underwriters what additional measures would be required for the city to qualify for a fifth class fire status with resultant lower general fire insurance rates for the city. This followed his progress report Monday night concerning steps already taken to qualify for the lower rate.

According to the report the city is today negotiating for a new 750 gallon pumper. Some emergency equipment has already been installed, a drill program has been carried out, as recommended by the state board, records have been kept of cooperation and escorts given by the local police department. Scott said arrangements had been concluded with Campbell water company to install six inch mains on Dillon and Gillman avenues, to be completed by May 1, 1954.

Scott also recommended that to further reduce the number of deficiency points against the city he would recommend that off-duty firemen be appointed fire marshalls with additional compensation.

In other city council action Monday night, Police Chief Robert J. Locke was authorized to seek applicants for an additional crossing guard for the Cherry Lane School, and one to replace J. Collins at the intersection of Winchester road and Campbell avenue.

City Clerk was authorized to purchase a new ditto machine for the city office.

City received a warrant from the Santa Clara County Controller in the amount of $518.24 representing fines, and forfeitures for the month of November. Building inspection fees amounted to $36.50 and fines and forfeitures came to $481.74.

City engineer was authorized to file a status report to the bonding company of Kuehnis Estates for storm sewers with instruction to comply with pertinent city ordinances.

City received a letter from McCutchen, Thomas, Matthew, Griffiths, and Greene, regarding the proposed increase in rates of San Jose Water Company, listing the time and place of the public hearing on the matter.

The city of Campbell is in good condition so far as its budgetary activities are concerned, according to a report filed Monday evening with the City Council.

Mayor Richard Morton said that each department is operating well within its budget. The Public Works department has used $8,105 of its budgeted $14,159.40, however there is $4000 unappropriated reserve in this fund to carry on with.

CITY PLANNERS MEET TONIGHT AT FIRE HOUSE

Heads of area civic, business, social and fraternal organizations within the city have been invited as well as the general public to the special meeting of the Campbell Planning commission which meets tonight at 8 p. m. in the Fire house, 41 North Central avenue.

The council meets to discuss a major streets and highways plan for the city and to enlist the aid of local citizens in compiling a traffic count on city streets. Information so obtained will be used as reference material for a further study on the parking problem, the downtown business area and other sections of the city, which may be affected as the city grows.

A citizens correlating group will be organized to assist in compiling an accurate count during the daytime at selected locations within the city.

Area high school children, adults, police, and city officials will comprise the operational force, but the public in general is asked to cooperate in making the count.

Nativity Scene On Lawn In Campbell

The Nativity scene on the lawn of the Campbell Union High School is expected to be ready for display tonight. It was prepared by the school industrial art department, directed by Mrs. Marion Winston, with cut-outs by the shop, both wood and tin, directed by Bob Culp and Frank Meiss.

It is a modern interpretation of the Christmas scene with the three wise men and the silhoutted background of the town of Bethlehem over which shines the evening star. Indirect lighting will be employed.

The display was made possible by cooperation of the Campbell Stamp Association, the High School and the City Council. Labor was donated.

A Campbell police officer was injured, his motorcycle was wrecked, and an automobile driven by a Campbell resident was damaged in a collision between the officer and motorist Saturday morning on Winchester Road at Hamilton avenue. Officer Tom Casey, 31, of the Campbell force was chasing a speeder north on Winchester road when he collided with a vehicle driven by Peter Vossler, 18, of 12779 Lantana Drive. Vossler was turning left to Winchester road from Hamilton avenue, according to Campbell Police Chief Robert J. Locke.

Extensive damage was done to the police cycle, the left front end of Vossler's car was damaged, Officer Casey received numerous cuts about the face and head as well as a wrenched right leg, knee and foot, but Vossler was unhurt in the accident.

Nestor Barrett Is Planning Consultant Now At Los Gatos

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant for Campbell, was hired to a similar position by the town council at Los Gatos this week. He was one of three applicants from the Bay area considered for the position.

Barrett is to devote four days each month in work with the Los Gatos Planning Commission on zoning and land use problems. He has been hired for the remainder of the fiscal year at $150 per month. He served for several years as planning consultant for Santa Clara county. He is consultant for several other cities in California on specific projects.

EDITORIAL

CAMBRIAN SCHOOL BONDS

There seemed to have been little doubt in the minds of voters recently about providing better facilities and conditions for the Campbell Union High School, as the district voted four-to-one for a two and a half million dollar bond issue. They knew full well that such improvements were of absolute necessity.

The same problem exists today in the Cambrian Elementary School district and next Tuesday voters will go to the polls to decide on a $200,000 bond issue. It is the same story about school growth, 300 in 1948, and increasing 125 or better each year until the 965 enrollment of today, in a school built to house but seven hundred. In two more years the enrollment will be 1270 and in three years it will be at double its present capacity.

It is vitally necessary to construct new classrooms for these pupils. From planning already done by the Cambrian board it is obvious that they have been conservative. They would spend $121,000 of the bonds to bring the district to its bonding limits for 1953-54, the remainder to be sold as the asseesed valuation increases.

This is an essential election intended to improve conditions in a crowded school. The Press heartily recommends to a qualified elector a 'yes' vote.

CAMPBELL OF TOMORROW

Tonight in the firehouse some decisions of lasting importance are likely to be made, as the Planning Commission considers its pattern for a city of tomorrow. Of course, there will probably be thought given the master zoning map, for we are about to decide on the extent of business zoning, industry and residential classifications.

Civic leaders are to consider tentative reports on what is deemed the best area for commercial development based on population, on trading zones and on purchasing power.

They will hear something about the extent of parking area justified through surveys made from selected locations according to percentage of capacity in hourly use.

And of course, they will be confronted, as many other Peninsula cities have been confronted, with street parking and off-street parking costs through the purchase of property and its subsequent development.

These matters may seem inconsequential for the moment, but Campbell is destined to grow more rapidly in the next five years than at any other time in its history. The time to plan is now. We have a foothold today with which to lift the city toward a greater economic security through higher assessment rolls resulting in lower taxes and at the same time we may provide for better roads. better parking facilities, lower insurance rates and other civic essentials. This calls for a mutual understanding toward a common community good between civic leaders and the property owners. Now, as never before, it is best that we consider first of all. the welfare of the city as a whole, today and tomorrow. That will be the function of the meeting tonight.

TOYS FOR TOTS

Some five thousand toys for tots have been collected by the Reserve unit of Moffett Field, some of this number having been turned in from the fire station in Campbell. Only five more days remain in the campaign to help less fortunate children have a happier Christmas.

Some two hundred communities participated in this project which was started by the First Air Delivery Company. All toys collected during the drive are to be distributed by church groups, Parent Teachers Associations and by Welfare agencies. The toys may be new or old. If used, they should be in good order, and if wrapped, a notation should appear on the outside indicating if suitable for boy or for girl and of what age. What makes the plan so effective is that delivery to a worthy child is virtually guaranteed.

MOULDERS OF CHARACTER

Children may have a satisfying relationship with persons outside the family even though they have individual differences, according to a professor of education from the University of California in an address recently before the Santa Clara County teachers' institute.

Dr. Clifford Froelich said that children vary in intellect but that a "guidance-minded" teacher may lead the child to better understand his strengths and weaknesses. Parental attitude. leisure time interests, mental and physical health constitute individual differences, but emotional problems within the child is what the teacher must seek to control.

This is sound logic, for self-control of one's emotions has a bearing on mature decisions. Some of our greatest statesmen — Lincoln, Jefferson, Washington and Eisenhower have been best known for having this simple characterization.

WHEN SMOG HANGS OVER THE BAY

Health officials of nine Bay area counties are meeting today in Berkeley to talk about the smog problem. Some sort of program will have to get under way soon to correct air pollution conditions which seem to have wandered across the Los Angeles city limits up 'this-away' only to be buffeted by our own salubrious and temperate climate. Some say smog is caused by an increasing number of smoke stacks. Maybe it is atmosphere that has gone moldy.

The Campbell Gambol

GIRL SCOUTS of the Cambrian Elementary School district, most of whom are enrolled as students there, expect to do their good deeds next Tuesday by baby-sitting for mothers wanting to vote in the $200,000 school bond election..... mothers can call the school for a sitter and transportation to and from the polling place . . .the girls know the school is already twenty percent over its intended enrollment capacity with steady increases charted by officials for he next five years that will double the present capacity, so something will have to be done about the situation. . . the girl scouts are doing their part.

CHRISTMAS decorations are starting to appear here and there about town . . business houses are doing their bit with some excellent windows, but it seems that the schools and churches have the feel of Christmas spirit . . . tomorrow night the Campbell High School choir is to be heard at the annual Christmas Festival in the San Jose Auditorium, a detailed account of which is told by Bob Olsen on page four . . . hop the headlines too and you will see what the various schools, lodges and churches are doing toward Christmas programs and parties . . . the center of attraction for the season will probably be the Nativity scene on the Winchester avenue side of the Campbell high school with the Star of Bethlehem overhead and a replica of the city set up on the alcove and with the three wise men in the foreground on the lawn . . . the city of Campbell and the Stamp Association backed this display and it was prepared by the shop department of the high school directed by Robert Culp and by the art department directed by Mrs. Marion Winston . . . the business houses all have some Christmas decorations and lighting effects up, and the Clark Drug Store boldly states that Santa Claus himself will be on hand from 7 to 9 there tomorrow night . . . across the street, Rachel's Dress Shop has a nicely arranged window, the House of Carpets, American Auto Supply, Accardi's Radio Store, Campbell Hardware, House of Music and Benson's Cleaners have excellent window displays, while Jeffers Men's Store and Nelson's Grain store have fine outside decorations . . . Campbell Variety, Helen's Juvenile and numerous other stores have appealing windows.

PRODUCTION of the Boatster type of boat trailers by the Weldit Manufacturing Co. on Gilman street will have to be stepped up to meet the demand, according to E. W. Tyger, president of the firm who reports that as fast as a trailer is finished somebody wants it . . . a back log of orders seems to set up a busy season ahead, and a statewide sales campaign, especially the contacts in Southern California has brought in lots of orders . . . the super boatster built of steel fabrication with adjustments for the axles, will enable the user to carry a 16 to 18 foot outboard and light inboard boats to 1500 pounds. . . the axle assembly would even allow for carrying garden equipment such as garden tractors, small air compressors and lighting plans . . . . the firm also makes two other boat trailers in senior and junior sizes, and makes a utility box for any model . . . the retail stores report a big demand for the boatster and Tyger is working night and day trying to keep up with the demand.

INFRA-RED LAMPS designed to penetrate the heat without surface burning, is another product being made in Campbell and seems destined for national distribution to homes, medical offices, clinics, industrial plants and institutions . . . the lamp is being made by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Patterson at a plant on East Campbell avenue. . . .

Profile of The Week

This column attempts to acquaint Campbell residents with the background of most of its leading citizens, to make for a greater interest in the activities of the Campbell area.

Pictures from the files of the Campbell Press will be drawn, by lot, for the first of the articles. When this supply is exhausted, pictures of newer residents will be taken, to run in conjunction with stories.

The first attorney to open a law office in Campbell after World War II, Norman A. Stoner thereby showed his confidence in the future growth of Campbell. His Campbell office, now over 5 years old, is at 11 South Fourth Street.

NORMAN A. STONER

Stoner was raised in Oil City, Pennsylvania, where at attended public school, then went on to get his bachelor's degree at Princeton University, from which he was graduated with honors and membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity. Having won first prize in his class for both debating and oratory, he decided to become an attorney and practice law in California.

Thus, he chose to do his law study at Stanford University, from which he was graduated in 1940. At both Princeton and Stanford he held scholarships and largely worked his way through school.

After having been admitted to practice in California in 1941, he served 4 years in naval intelligence, beginning as an enlisted man and emerging with the rang of lieutenant.

Toward the end of his naval career he married Shirley Green, a Smith College graduate,in the East, and returned with his bride to the Santa Clara Valley. While still at law school, he had chosen this area as the ideal place to live. In 1946 they bought a home in the outskirts of Campbell, where they still reside with their two children, Robert, 6, and Martin, 4.

Stoner's interest in local affairs was first shown when, with Robert Kirkwood, former assemblyman and now State Controller, he campaigned in favor of the Santa Clara County Charter, which was adopted by a majority of 39,000 votes in 1950.

Recently Stoner engaged in public discussions on city planning, advocating commercial zoning of Winchester Road between Campbell Avenue and Hamilton Avenue. He contends that if Campbell is to survive as a city, it must have an ample tax base so as to build schools, maintain streets and render police and fire services. He feels that the modern business area must have wide streets and adequate parking facilities.

"If Campbell is not to be swallowed up by San Jose in extending its business districts and city limits we must be alert to these new opportunities for extending commercial zones," he said.

CAROL MAY MOTT, TOM MIRANDA WED IN DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY

Carol May Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mott of Atherton, became the bride of Tom Miranda, son of Mrs. Olivia Miranda of Jane Ann Way in a double ring nuptial ceremony, December 5th at St. Pius church in Redwood City with Father John Duryea officiating.

With a background of organ presentations of Gounod's "Ave Maria" and Francks' Paris Angelicus, Carol, escorted by her father, walked altarward in a gown of imported chantilly lace, fashioned with scalloped neckline, long sleeves, fitted bodice, and bouffant skirt of pleated nylon tulle, featuring a peplum of lace. Her bridal veil was secured by a bonnet of appliqued lace and she carried a white satin prayer book, marked by a cascade of baby orchids, bouvardia and lilies of the valley.

Anna Rimkus, classmate of the bride, serving as maid of honor, was attired in a gown of iridescent jade taffeta, with matching braided bandeau and accessories. She carried a cascade bouquet of white camelias and bouvardia.

Secondary attendants, Renee Montague, Martha Merryman and Dorothy Matthews, wore identical gowns of wint green taffeta and carried bouquets of camelias and bouvardia, be-ribboned in mint.

Richard Grim served as the benedict's best man and ushering duties were performed by Marcum Martin, Frank Paffintino and Iirving Mott, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Mott attended her daughter's wedding in a turquoise peau-de-soie gown and matching accessories. She pinned on a corsage of cyrepidium orchids.

Mrs. Miranda chose a rose lace gown with co-ordinating accessories. She wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The Atherton home of the bride's parents at 39 Shearer Drive, was the locale of the reception, immediately following the ceremony, where 125 guests toasted the newly-weds from a huge molded, ice-lined punchbowl with delightful fluted edge, containing colorful frozen flowers.

As the couple left for a southern honeymoon, Carol was attired in a grey dressmaker suit, pink hat and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame High School in Belmont and is now attending San Jose State College.

Tom, a former professor of chemistry at San Jose State, is now serving with the Armed Forces and will depart for the Research Chemistry Laboratory in Maryland Decembed 24th. Carol's plans depend on Tom's future service assignments.

CAMPBELL HI-LITES

by Bob Olsen

Tomorrow night, Friday, December 11th, at 8 P. M., the choirs of ten Santa Clara Valley high schools will present their annual Christmas Festival in the San Jose Auditorium.

Campbell High School's Choir, under the direction of Mr. Frank Triena, will be among the participants, along with the musical groups from Mountain View, Salinas, Fremont, James Lick, Los Gatos, Santa Clara, Willow Glen, Abraham Lincoln, and San Jose High Schools.

As its presentation, the CUHS Choir will sing the "Cherubim Song" by Glinka and "Hodie Christus natus est" by Healey. For this performance it will be attired in traditional blue robes with the addition of silver satin stoles.

The mass choir, of which the CUHS group will be a part, will sing the "Gloria Patri", "Carol of the Bells", "While Shepherds Watch Their Sheep", and "Silent Night" under the guest direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, who formerly was choir director for Fred Waring. Guest critics of the performance include Russell Bodley, College of Pacific's Choir Director, and Harold Youngberg, Oakland's director of music.

Campbell High's Choir has grown in the short period of only ten years from a membership of 20 to its limited size of 68 selected voices. Besides appearing in school assemblies the group often makes appearances before many local organizations and service clubs. It always rates high in state wide festival competition as one of the West Coast's outstanding ensembles.

Director Frank Triena has had many years of training and an extensive experience in conducting choral and instrumental organizations. He has played himself under some of the world's most renowned conductors and has often appeared as concert violinist in Bay Area concerts and over the CBS and NBC radio networks. Having studied conducting and choral technique under Fred Waring, Triena has performed on the same programs with such noted artists as Alec Templeton, John Charles Thomas, Andre Kostelanetz, and Lily Pons.

Before coming to Campbell, he taught at Modesto High School and Junior College and was formerly conductor of the Modesto Junior Symphony Orchestra. He played for over three years with the San Francisco Symphony and is now Concert Master of the San Jose Symphony.

Campbell High School cordially invites YOU to attend its 1953 Christmas Program, beginning at 8 P. M. Wednesday evening, December 16th. This year's holiday show is a joint effort of the high school's dance, drama, and music departments, and is being jointly supervised by Mrs. Virginia Jennings, advisor for the CUHS Dance Club, Mr. Frank Triena, director of the choral groups, and Mr. Ken Wallace, CUHS drama advisor.

It will be a performance of "The Juggler", based on Anatole France's famed short short, as paraphrased by Mrs. Jennings. Taking place in a village square and church, the tale's musical background is a medley of the Christmas songs we all love. You will come away humming "Joy To The World", the "First Noel", and "The Carol of the Bells", and be full, we trust, of the true Christmas Spirit. For the theme of "The Juggler" is that the "gift without the giver is bare", or "the greatest gift we're able to make is truly giving of ourselves". a

In the playlet, monks bring gifts to the Madonna hoping that she will bless one of them as donor of the gift which most pleases her. Then the juggler comes to pay her court, bearing no gift other than his dancing and juggling talents. This proves to be quite an enthusiastic "gift" before he falls exhausted at the feet of the madonna he tried so desperately to please. The strenuous part of the juggler will be performed by Evelyn Judd, whereas two girls share the madonna role. Kathleen Ingham will perform before the student body in two morning assemblies, whereas Raylene Raftery has the role Wednesday night. There will be folk dances by 22 dance club members with a folk dance solo by Marlene Avila. Ray Mossholder will be narrator.

The original music for this nonsectarian drama was composed by Mrs. Lillian Giskin of Los Gatos, a former professional dancer and a concert pianist herself

Mrs. Jennings' Modern Dance Club has been working for over two weeks on Russian folk dances, impersonations of all the male roles, and costumes. Each girl is responsible for her own simple but colorful dress suggestive of the period. Some of the soloists have worked diligently on Saturdays.

Mrs. Winston, director of the school's Art Commission, has supervised the construction of elaborate scenery for the play; it consists of a peasant village and a church scene featuring a large stained-glass window. Wallace and his Drama Commission are handling all the lighting and sound effects and Dick Gordon will provide musical accompaniment with the high school orchestra.

It is hoped that the whole community will be inspired by this production which is striving to portray the real meaning of Christmas. It is hoped that you will be there to see it. Remember the date: Wednesday evening, December 16th, 8 P. M., in the high school auditorium.

Those auxiliary members attending fun night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chubb were: Esther Smith, Mrs. Russell Sargent Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCurdy, Mrs. Joseph Humphrey, Mrs. Arthur Hill, and Mrs. Ethan Lanphear.

After an evening of games, the hostess served lovely refreshments.

CAGERS PRIME FOR THIS YEAR'S SCVAL HONORS

Buccaneer Cagers take the Campbell High hardwood tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 p. m. against San Lorenzo High School ---their third opponent in the new season. Fresh from narrow victories, 44-42 over Santa Cruz last Tuesday, and 67-60 over San Jose Junior College last Friday, the cagers are out to equal last year's season record in which they emerged top-dog in valley competition.

Almost all hands got into the act in last week's games, as head coach Bert Robinson scrambled regulars and reserves, seniors and sophomores, varsity and subs, in an effort to mold another championship club.

Robinson said his starting lineups performed creditably, but said he has his eye on some newcomers up from last year's lightweight squad. Dick Jordan, five-foot, ten-inch guard, a member of the 1952 SCVAL co-champions squad, received Robinson's well done for his fine play-making in the Santa Cruz and Junior College games. Gary Hoover did well with his smooth feeding, passing and play-making, Robinson said, as did Gil Manriquez who looked good in varsity competition.

Regulars, six foot-three inch All SCVAL center Tom Hansen; Ken Beth, five foot eleven; Tony Schraub, six-foot three inch forward just aboard from a successful grid season; and guard John Harris all received coach's praise for their smooth team work this early in the season.

High School MYF Takes Snow Trip To Pinecrest

Forty-three members of the High School Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Campbell Methodist Church made a trip to the snow last Saturday. Their destination was Longbarn, near Pinecrest. Toboganning, snowball fun and fellowship around a fire were the activities enjoyed by these young people.

One of the purposes of this trip was to gather "greens" to decorate the church for Christmas. A large trailer full was secured and next Saturday the young people will decorate the Methodist Church.

Youth making the trip were Pamela Barnett, Dick Bitzer, Allan Blaine, Dale Bowman, Richard Buck, Betty Buehner, Anona Cahill, Russ Cahill, Linda Curtis, Rodger Flagg, Donna Floyd, Lynda Foreman, Carol Foster, Dick Foster, David Gibbs, Heather Howard, Sandi Howard, Doris Jean Hunnell, Judy Keech, Eunice Marcunson, Sut Martin, Stanley Mattix, Tom Mitchell, Gail Murdock, Owen Nelson, Bob Ostermeier, Jimmy Peterson, Eric Protiro, Judy Quinsland, Norman Quinsland, Butch Raines, Pat Rappe, Yvonne Rappe, Liz Ribble, Marilyn Runcie, Dide Solari, Carol Starbuck, Ralph Stradley, Margie TStevenson, Mary Thompson, Lynnie Titus, Nancy Titus, and DeWitt Tranberg.

Adults accompanying were Mr. and Mrs. James Barnett, Kenneth Bitzer, Earl Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Guilbert, Herbert Neale, Mr. and Mrs. John Runcie, Lloyd Sradley, Harold Toy, and DeWitt Tranberg.

NEW WATER CONDITIONER HELP BEAN CROP YIELD

A 17% gain in his 1953 lima bean crop yield was reported by farmer Lawrence E. Gerry of Camarillo, in spite of predictions by the California Lima Bean Growers Association of a 12% drop in the overall crop. Gerry's neighbors reported a decreased yield of 10% or more on their lima bean crops.

Gerry gives much of the credit for his increased yield this year to a new water conditioner he has installed in his irrigation system. The conditioner, manufactured by the Evis Manufacturing Company of San Francisco, is said to somehow change the physical character of the water.

Lemons and avocados are also doing well on the conditioned water, according to Gerry.

Balsam fir trees are grown commercially for the Christmas trade.

Campbell High Helps In Fight Against Polio

Again this year, second year typing students at Campbell Union High School are playing an important part in the battle against polio and getting school grades in the process.

Specifically, they are addressing the 40,000 envelopes which will be sent out to county residents when the 1954 March of Dimes opens next month.

That number of envelopes poses quite a production problem, even when there are five classes to handle them.

That's why Christina Flynn and Mrs. Phyllis Wright, typing instructors, stress the high speed methods of modern business in carrying through the project.

Students are shown the most effective methods of inserting envelopes into the typewriter. They are given a "dry run" with sample envelopes and then timed for speed and accuracy with the March of Dimes envelopes.

County Campaign Chairman Parker L Hathaway expressed warm appreciation for the work being done by the students.

"It is gratifying to have the cooperation of school officials and students in this very important phase of the 1954 March of Dimes," he said, "The need for funds is greater than ever now that we are opening the 'fourth front' against polio, that of prevention."

"It is only through such wholehearted cooperation as this that we in Santa Clara County will be able to do our share in this great work."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Opinions expressed in letters to this department do not necessarily reflect the editorial policy of this paper.

Letter to the editor:

I wish to thank the pedestrians, motorists, and all concerned who helped direct traffic, offered personal care at the scene, and who otherwise assisted me following my motorcycle collision, Saturday morning on Winchester road and Hamilton avenue.

During my work as a police officer I have covered many injury accidents, but had never realized until now, the effect on the injured, of cool heads, kind words, and helping hands.

I can sincerely say that Campbell is one of the best little cities and has the most hospitable people I have ever been associated with.

I hope to continue to work for the city for some time to come, and would like to call on all citizens to help me in my work to prevent accidents such as the one in which I was involved Saturday.

OFFICER TOM CASEY

TO ANNEX AREA

While residents in an area involving annexation for Jefferson No.2 voted 15 to 13 to join Santa Clara City, the City of Sunnyvale has a trump card yet to play, contending that at least four voters were not entitled to ballots, which if for Santa Clara would give the majority vote to Sunnyvale.

The territory is west of Santa Clara and is contiguous to the easterly limits of Sunnyvale.

Plant Larkspur For Winter Growth

A planting of larkspur is good for an amateur gardener's ego. It is one plant that thrives on winter neglect and continues its skyward spiral come rain, come wind or come cold. It gives a dazzling show of spring color surpassed only by its artistic cousin, the lovely and lordly delphinium hybrid.

If the larkspur are set out from flats now they are given a good start in life. They need to tuck their roots deep into the soil in the cold cycle of the year in order to develop the type of plants that produce the best of bloom. The sooner planted the better the show of spring color.

Larkspur grow tall. Use them as a background planting in the rear portion of a wide sunny bed with the plants spaced about one foot apart. They require little or no fertilizing and should be kept on the dry side for best results. For these reasons they are good companion plants with gaillardia, coreopsis,geum , geranium, carnation and godetia which are also drought resistant, sun loving plants.

Larkspur is a grand cutting flower even though it shatters in about five days. Try cutting the stem slantwise in the early morning and plunging it deep into ice water for ten minutes for best results. A small bed of this bright-colored, eye-appealing annual for the plants will seem to grow themselves.

A. L. Christopher a Coyote Point rancher has been elected president of the Santa Clara County Fair Association, succeeding Frank C. Mitchell, resigned.

THIEVES LOOT CHEERIO MARKET

One hundred fifty dollars in cash, 40 cartons of cigarettes, 20 pounds of bacon and an undetermined amount of frozen foods were stolen from Cheerio Corners Market, Saturday morning between 3 a. m. and 5 a. m. according to local investigating officer Louis Doolittle.

Saturday's forcible entry marks the second time in six months that the market has been broken into. Thre eyouths were apprehended immediately following the first theft and were required to make restitution.

Thief or thieves gained entry in Saturday's break by kicking in the door frame of the glass door in front of the market which faces Winchester Road, according to officers. Police are continuing the investigation.

PG&E Completes New Substation Near Palo Alto

Redistribution of load facilities and the introduction of additional power for the mid-Peninsula area have been made possible with the completion of an important new substation at Cooley Landing, near Palo Alto, it was announced today by T. W. Snell, San Jose division manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

The substation, costing $852,000, and a new 60,000 volt circuit just completed from Cooley Landing to Menlo Park and Woodside Substations costing $357,000 have been arranged to broaden the supply to the area's increasing population, Snell explained. He pointed out that the line work also includes the installation of automatic reclosing switches and other switches to sectionalize the circuits. By sectionalizing a line, service can be maintained on portions other than where trouble might develop.

An important effect of the new installations, Snell said, will be to lessen heavy load conditions in central San Mateo County, because of introducing a new power source at Cooley Landing, which is fed from the great Newark Substation pool. Heretofore, the Woodside-Menlo Park-Palo Alto region depend mainly on power from the north.

The San Mateo Substation, where 220,000-volt energy was introduced this autumn for the first time in Peninsula history, has been expanded at a cost of more than $3 million to handle the population expansion in the mid-Peninsula. But the Cooley Landing installation also was necessary to keep ahead of load requirements, Snell said.

Now connections between the San Mateo and Cooley Landing Substations will provide for mass power movements in either direction, thereby stabilizing the supply situation for the area.

Fiberglass Plant Plans Open House

Owens-Corning Fiberglas plant, the largest Santa Clara Industrial tract, will open its doors to the public Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 12 and 13, so they may see its operation.

The big factory, which annually turns out more than 13 per cent of the firm's $100,000,000 in sales, will be in full operation during specially guided tours.

The public, except persons under 12, will be admitted from 12:30 until 9 p. m. each day of the two-day open house. The age limit on admissions has been imposed because of the heavy industrial nature of operations of the plant on its 63-acre site.

All of the machinery in the plant will be specially labelled for the occasion. In addition, there will be guides to show visitors through the maze of machines which turn glass into magic material used for more 4000 different purposes in industry.

"Talking machines"---specially placed tape recorded announcements---will also be placed to give visitors a better insight into what they are seeing.

Besides the tour, visitors will get a glimpse of the many items now made in part or entirely of Fiberglas. They will be housed in a special exhibit section at the end of the tour and will range from household appliances like stoves and refrigeraors to helicopters and chairs.

Special custom body sports cars, with exteriors made entirely Fiberglas will be on display.

The open house will be the first time that the general public has been able to see the inside of the big factory since it was formally opened in Santa Clara July 4, 1949.

Santa Clara County Business Gaining

Decentralization is changing the purchasing habits of Bay Area citizens but these changes are being tempered by the Region's growth, according to a study by the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

All Nine counties showed substantial increases in the dollar volume of taxable sales in the period between the second quarters of 1949 and 1953 but there have been significant changes in the counties' share of the total sales within the Bay Area.

The central areas, San Francisco and Alameda counties, accounted for $419,105,000 of the Bay Area's total $676,311,000 in taxable retail sales during the second quarter of 1953 but their share of the total was less than it was in the same period in 1949. San Francisco's share dropped 10.6% and Alameda's 2.8%. In San Francisco the drop was offset by an 11.4% decrease in its share of the total population of the Bay Area, while in Alameda the decrease was only 1.8%

Increases in the share of the total Bay Area Dollar Volume in taxable retail sales during the four year period occurred in six of the nine counties in the Bay Area, Napa remained constant. In four counties, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Sonoma, the increase in the share of the total dollar volume was greater than the increase in the share of the population. Santa Clara county registered a 13.7% gain in its share of the dollar volume and a 12.5% gain in its share of the total population.

Governor Knight In Tribute To Adoption Center

Governor Goodwin J. Knight touched off the forthcoming 62nd birthday observance, December 10, of the Children's Home Society, oldest privately supported adoption agency in California and the only one serving the entire state, by sending a congratulatory letter to T. Wayne Gibson, president of the State Board of Directors of the organization.

"I have for many years been acquainted with the activities of the Society, and I am aware of the excellent service it has performed in finding homes for the adoption of children who have no homes of their own," declared Governor Knight.

The Governor further stated, "The California adoption program began in the founding of your Society on December 10, 1891, and is a fact worthy of note that your organization---a voluntary organization supported by voluntary contributions---has been one of the leaders in urging the establishment of public adoption agencies. I think it can be said with due respect to all of the other agencies and individuals involved that the high standard of our adoption program in California is due in no small measure to the public spirited outlook and cooperative attitude of your agency."

Founded in an era when orphans and other homeless youngsters were often sold, "farmed out" with little or no legal supervision or doomed to long years in public institutions, the Children's Home Society, which has placed over 16,000 youngsters in carefully selected adoption homes, has been a long-time leader in California in formulating high adoption standards and sefaguards and constantly works for sound legislation in the field of child welfare.

Moreland School May Add New Board Members

Moreland Board of Trustees is considering the addition of two more members to the Board. The education code now makes it possible for small districts such as Moreland to have five trustees instead of three and the board favors as wide and complete district representation as can be obtained. The new members would be elected by voters at the regular trustee election in May, Mrs. Gussie M. Baker, principal said. Formal action on the matter will be taken at the next regular meeting January 12, at 8 P. M. at the School.

The regular meeting for December was held Tuesday evening, December 8th. The board recently took delivery of a new Crown bus which was placed in service Nov. 30th.

The addition of 6 classrooms and an administration unit being constructed by Samuel E. Barth at El Quito Park School will be completed by January 15th and will give the district adequate housing for 900 children. Enrollment last month reached 892, school officials said.

Christmas Has Everything

Christmas has everything—hasn't it?

Christmas holds tightly many happy memories, is loaded with joy and good cheer right now, and pierces uncertainties of the future with the bright twinkle of hope.

Christmas lifts you out of your ordinary self and pushes you up into being a person far nicer than you have thought you were.

Christmas opens up friendships more numerous, more delightful and more heart-warming than you knew you had.

Christmas appeals to all five of your senses. Is there any sight lovelier than gaily wrapped gifts, multicolored candles, shiny holly and decorations on a Christmas tree? Isn't there contentment in the fragrant smell of fir balsam in the living room and of spicy odors in the kitchen? Wouldn't the days seem empty without hearing again the universally-loved carols and the laughter of happy children? Isn't self-control overstrained by the taste of festive, tempting foods? And don't we respond to the invigorating touch of the sweet air outdoors and the welcome warmth of home and family within?

It looks like Christmas.
It smells like Christmas.
It sounds like Christmas.
It tastes like Christmas.
It feels like Christmas.

It must be Christmas.

Merry Christmas!

Mayor Charles K. Gamble pointed out the fringe areas, not Los Gatos, were gaining from the increased expenditures of the firm. He said the fringe areas should bear the brunt of new rates.

Councilman Harry Boone objected to the protest. He explained the council has not voiced active opposition to utility increases in the past.

CAMPBELL RANCHES PRUNE, SPRAY, FERTILIZE, IN PREPARATION FOR THE SUMMER BEARING SEASON HERE

It's cleanup time in Campbell orchards. Now that the fruit-bearing season is over, valley orchardists are busy with a general cleanup of their acreage, which includes pruning, getting equipment ready for spraying, fertilizing and a general spruce-up in preparation for the bearing season.

Joseph V. Gomes, one of the largest growers in the Campbell area, as with other Campbell orchardists, now has six men busily shipping dead branches from his so-called "stone-fruit" trees throughout his 150 acres of orchards. Pruning is done to insure maximum fruit bearing growth.

"It's still done the old-fashioned way," Gomes explained, "With step ladder and pruning shears. An attempt has been made to mechanize the process, but it has not worked out as well as the old methods, on our ranche," he said.

Pruning involves considerable expense to the rancher, according to Gomes, the cost, the cost comes to approximately $1.25 for each tree. Disposing of the clipped limbs also involves time and expense. Some ranchers collect all the pruned branches into a large pile and burn them. Others disc them into the soil with tractors. Some let them lay where they fall.

One of the most pressing duties of valley fruit ranchers is to get equipment ready for the annual spraying, which usually takes place around the first of the year. This job is done to combat "apricot scale" a sort of brown-colored organism which secretes a "glue" which marks the fruit and so reduces its market value. A conventional spraying rig is equipped with a 30 horsepower engine which pumps to 600 pounds pressure. It is usually tractor-drawn and a ranch-hand usually follows and mans the hoses equipped with nozzles. The spray, a commercially manufactured well-refined oil must be done while the trees are dormant and when the scale can be most easily detected. The spray smothers the scale, but apparently an adult percentage survives, for they appear every year, orchardists say. Spraying too, is a costly, though necessary phase of ranch operation. Gomes said his cost run approximately $10.00 an acre for the spraying operation.

Some ranchers these days are busy fertilizing, although others fertilize in the spring, or summer. End results are the same, according to the growers. Fertilization consists of working into the soil the necessary chemical elements to insure optimum fruit bearing conditions. Nitrogen is added for tree food, and potash is added to supply sugar to prunes and other fruits to increase its market value.

Amount of irrigations done during the growing season, and the age of the trees has a bearing on the amount of fertilizer used. The more the trees are watered the larger they grow. The bigger the trees, the more fertilizer required to feed them. The older the trees become, the more the soil from which they feed, becomes barren, and the more fertilizer is required to rejuvenate it.

"But it's still a paying proposition," Gomes said, "because the larger the trees become the more fruit they bear."

And these fruit trees last a long time. If well taken care of, Santa Clara Valley prune trees continue to bear marketable fruit for 80-100 years, according to Gomes. 'Cot trees have a productive expectancy of 60-70 years, while cherry trees last approximately 40 years.

Another disease fairly prevalent in the Santa Clara Valley, according to Gomes, is a fungus growth which works underground attacking the roots. This is a disease of the soil, and spreads from one tree to another. Pear trees seem to be more resistant to this disease than either cots, prunes, cherry or peach tres.

Other Campbell area fruit ranchers are busy with their annual fall and winter preparations for the fruit bearing season, as at the Gomes ranch.

On the ranches of William Cilker, Ugo Orsi, Frank Steindorf, W. W. Bucknell, S. Viviano, Perley Payne, Hiroshi and Masako Tomasaki, William Carre, Den Viannicia, Manuel Santos, and Richard Salice, workers are busy with the fall cleanup.

Federal Funds For Prunes To Britain

MORGAN HILL---Foreign Operations administration of the federal government recently approved an allocation of $5 million to Great Britain to purchase California dried prunes.

Prune industry leaders feel that although import licenses still have to be issued by the British government to importers so they may start negotiations for the purchases through regular channels of trade the foreign government will take immediate action.

It is believed that the allocation came as a result of a recent trip by T. O. Kluge, general maanager of California Prune aand Apricot Growers association, and Robert McArthur, Prune Advisory board chairman, on behalf of the prune industry to Washington and to Europe.

The trip by the two men was made to persuade the British and western European governments to allocate money for the purchase of dried prunes in the regular trade channels. The movement of small size prunes, which amounted to a large portion of the 1953 crop, was particularly emphasized by the prune industry representatives.

Low Beef Prices Booming Sales

"American consumers are eating the country out of the present beef crisis." This in summary is the report of food dealers of the country on the current beef problem. Released today in San Francisco by Safeway Stores, the report states that consumers will eat nearly 8,000,000 more head of cattle and calves this year than in 1952.

The report made on a survey of over 7000 retail food stores all over the country tells what food retailers have done to sell more beef, shows how retail prices of beef have come down, and explodes the fallacy of judging beef prices by high priced steaks.

Ross Newfarmer, Safeway meat specialist, told how a U. S. choice grade steer weighing 1000 pounds on the hoof shows up on the consumer's dinner table in only 444 pounds of retail cuts. The balance of the steer is slaughter waste, packer by-products and loss. "And only about 30 pounds of these retail cuts represent fancy porterhouse, T-Bone and club steaks," said Mr. Newfarmer. "People are waking up to the fact that steak prices are not typical beef prices".

Bay area beef prices are representative of the lower prices all over the country according to the Safeway meat man. They have gone down an average of 20c per pound in this area since their high of November 1951. He presented figures showing how much Bay Area prices have declined in the Fall of 1953 as compared with November 1951.

Fancy steaks have declined an average of 22c per pound; other steaks and fancy roasts an average of 15c per pound; medium priced cuts on average of 23c per pound; economy cuts an average of 18c per pound.

"Mankind, My Business"

Annually at the anniversary of Jesus' birth, millions read Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol." Millions of others will listen on the air to Lionel Barrymore as he perennially interprets miserly Scrooge, both villain and hero of the tale.

It is well to read the immortal little story about mean, grasping, penny-pinching Scrooge whose sharp mind is continually dreaming dreams and seeing visions. To him appears the ghost of his former partner, Jacob Marley. In life Jacob Marley had been as hard as nails and as stingy and paltry as old Scrooge himself.

Now from the world of shadows, Marley's ghost does his utmost to save parsimonious Scrooge from the disaster which had inevitably overtaken him. As the ghost wrings his hands and deplores the shortcomings and omissions of the life he had lived on earth, Scrooge manages to inject these words, falteringly and with quavering voice: "But you were always a good man of business, Jacob."

The rejoinder from the ghost of Jacob Marley supplies an effective commentary on the great avocation before us at Christmastide:

"Business," cried the ghost, wringing his hands again. "Mankind was my business. The common welfare was my business; charity, mercy, forbearance, benevolence, were all my business. The dealings of my trade were but a drop of water in the comprehensive ocean of my business!"

And so it was!

And so it may be!

The FARMERS CORNER

by Allen F. Mather
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

WETBACKS

There is one recurring word in the news columns which has our California farmers about half-mad. That word is "wetback".

It's a colorful and eye-catching word. The whole plight of the so-called "wetback", a Mexican who entered this country illegally, makes good newspaper copy. Perhaps for this reason there has been an unwarranted amount of attention given to this subject—just as the '30s saw an incredible stack of literature turned out about the Okies and the Arkies of "Grapes of Wrath" fame.

Not that our farmers are insensitive to the problems which are created by the presence of wetbacks in our State. Far from it.

The farmers are the largest taxpaying group in our rural counties and, as such, bear more than a little share of the cost involved when our governmental agencies offer assistance to illegal aliens who are in difficulty.

SIMON LEGREE

The thing that distresses the farmer is the conviction that those who have no intimate knowledge of the true facts look upon him as a modern-day Simon Legree. Rather than a simple whip to keep these poor "slaves" in line, however, our modern day farmer may be envisioned by the city dweller as riding herd on them in his own private plane—much as deer and antelope are now herded in our open range country.

What are the facts? First of all, the problem of aliens who are illegally in this country is much larger than just those who have crossed over from our southern border.

FACTS

The Department of Justice estimates that there are a minimum of four million illegal aliens of all nationalities at large in the United States. During the course of recent Congressional hearings, reliable estimates went up as high as five million.

At the same time, the Mexican Government estimates that there are at most one million of their citizens who have crossed the border without benefit of proper protocal. It then appears that the Mexican wetback is, at most, only 25 percent of the entire problem.

The next logical question is what types of activity are the "wets" engaged in? The California Department of Employment estimated not too long ago that only 45 percent of them were employed in agriculture. No one seems willing to guess that the maximum figure is more than 500,000.

WHOSE PROBLEM?

Keep in mind, too, that not all of these are found in states bordering on Mexico. For instance, the Immigration and Naturalization Service conducted a special drive in the Chicago District from January 30 to March 9 of last year. During that time, 1,225 aliens were apprehended, of which 1,199 were Mexican.

Perhaps we can't understand why any of them would want to leave the temperate climate of California or the Rio Grande Valley for the rigors of a midwestern winter, but these are the facts.

Recently, the California State Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to point out to its membership that the "illegal alien problem" belongs to everybody, not just the farmer. When an organization like the State Chamber—representing as it does a wide cross section of business, industry, and agriculture---takes this approach, perhaps we are nearing a solution. It certainly is sounder than simply damning the farmer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science Society, Country Women's Club House, Sunday, December 13. The sermon will consist of citations from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

The readings from the Bible will include this verse from Psalms: "The Lord is night unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth" (145:18).

From Science and Health this correlative passage will be read: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, imnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p. 387.

Dr. and Mrs. B. H. LEE of Wekiva drive have had as recent dinner guests, Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, Mr. and Mrs. W. Addicon, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Prusman, Jane Naglee, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Smith and Mildred Kaucher, president of the Art Association.

LAW IN ACTION

EQUAL JUSTICE

You would really feel hurt, (wouldn't you?) for a court to decide your neighbor's case one way last week, and this week to settle yours—one just like it—another way? Especially as he won his case and you lost—on the same kind of facts.

You say: "If it was right to settle my neighbors case last week one way, then, mine should be settled this week the same way."

And you would be right.

Justice is not just settling disputes, punishing guilty people, or protecting the innocent. That's an important part of it. But we also want laws to apply to all alike.

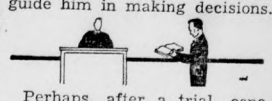
Well then, you would want the judge to study similar cases before making up his mind about your case.

And that's exactly what judges do!

Precedent

That's why, when you look in on a trial, you will see lawyers getting up and reading out of big books to the judge. They are, as they say, citing cases, or quoting "precedent." They are saying, in cases like the present one—previous courts have held the law to be thus and so.

A judge does not have to agree with either lawyer. His job is to hear both sides and make up his own mind. The lawyers are stating what they think should guide him in making decisions.



Perhaps, after a trial, especially a trial where both parties have waived the jury, the judge will ask the lawyers to "submit their case on brief." To do so, a lawyer sets out the facts in his case to show how judges in like cases used rules of law favoring the lawyer's client.

Lawyers for both sides do this and exchange their briefs. Then the judge decides. In his decision he finds one or the other party had the most reasonable and pertinent cases cited on its side. The new case itself may be quoted in turn on future occasions in other trials.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.
